Cocktails and Cuisine

Our 4th annual Cocktails and Cuisine raised nearly $15,000 for College of Agriculture scholarship. We enjoyed seeing so many supporters come out to the Baton Rouge Gallery for a lovely evening.

Honors Convocation

More than 100 students were awarded scholarships this year at our annual Honors Convocation. The award ceremony allowed scholarship recipients and donors to meet for an evening at the LSU Faculty Club. Picture on the left: Kiara Keyes, the first recipient of the K.C. Toups DVM College of Agriculture Scholarship.

Homecoming Week

Sept. 25 kicked off Homecoming Week with a student organization hay bale decorating contest. Students also joined Campus Sustainability in cleaning up campus and went for the gold at Ag Olympics where teams competed in relay games. The week ended with family, friends and football at the 4-H & College of Ag Family Tailgate.

Thank You!

Thank you to our alumni and friends who participated in Career Prep Week. This was an opportunity for students to prepare for their future in agriculture. Students attended an etiquette dinner with industry representatives, and the following day over 300 students came to the Ag Career Fair to meet and network with potential employers. Your cooperation helped make it a success!

Couture de la Fleur

Fashion met flora at the premiere of Couture de la Fleur following the annual fundraising dinner Wine and Roses.

The show presented three collections that included designs by current and past textiles, apparel and merchandising students and faculty and donated pieces from the LSU Textile and Costume Museum. Floral designers from Mendel University in the Czech Republic carefully ornamented each design with living plants. Read more

Audubon Internship

On New Orleans' West Bank, on a tract of land where the road seems to end is the Freeport-McMoRan Audubon Species Survival Center, where two College of Agriculture students interned this summer. See a video about their experience and read their story here.

Newly Endowed Scholarship

Two statewide community and health organizations — Louisiana Volunteers for Family and Community and Louisiana Extension Association of Family and Consumer Sciences — have donated $41,800 to establish an endowed scholarship in the LSU College of Agriculture.
